Actual Consequence:	Insignificant	Potential Consequence:	Major

Incident Short Description:	Contracting personnel involved in motor vehicle accident with MOP
------------------------------------	---

What Happened:
On the morning of the 8th of August 2023, a worker was instructed by their supervisor to collect their work colleague from another location and travel to their assigned work location for the day. The worker drove in their personal vehicle (van) to pick up their colleague. They left the laydown yard and collected the work colleague without any incident. However, whilst they started to exit the freeway and were decreasing their speed on the off ramp, a member of the public has collided with the back of the van. The impact has injured the two occupants inside and the police and ambulance were called. Occupant one was discharged later that day but has since been deemed unfit for work. Occupant two was admitted to hospital and discharged two days later with two fractures in his vertebrae (spinal column). He has not returned to work. Although the accident occurred in a personal vehicle, the task was being conducted during work hours and under the direction of a supervisor and therefore is a work-related motor vehicle accident.
