Incident Short Description:

Loader Operator felt back discomfort whilst greasing plant, resulting in LTI.

What Happened:

At approximately 5.00pm near the end of shift, a loader operator (Injured Person – IP) was conducting daily routine greasing of the plant.

The IP was applying grease in the front articulated area, which requires bending into a small awkward area of the plant. After completing the greasing, they felt discomfort and soreness in their back. The loader operator did not report this to anyone at the time.

The following morning the pain in their back had increased.

The IP attended the pre-start meeting and then reported the situation to a supervisor. The IP was taken to a medical clinic, where a doctor prescribed medication and declared them unfit for work for a period of 3 days, resulting in a LTI.

A formal ICAM investigation has commenced. Once completed, the lessons learnt will be communicated/shared through a final Grey Banner Alert as soon as practicable.
