Incident Short Description:	Worker microsleep resulting in vehicle veering off road
------------------------------------	---

What Happened:
A worker was on empty travel southbound from Mt Magnet and was considering stopping for a break but noticed that they were only 149km from Wubin, so made the decision to wait and stop there. Driver was not aware of any signs of fatigue at the time but did note that he had watery eyes. Approximately 60km from Wubin the vehicle has veered off the road, with the driver experiencing a microsleep. Dashcam footage has shown the vehicle travelling at 110km/hr when it left the road and hit the road shoulder, narrowly avoiding a concrete drain culvert, travelling through bush scrub and then coming to a stop after the driver woke and regained control of the vehicle. Two members of the public have observed the incident and stopped to ensure the driver was safe. Another worker in same convoy has then arrived at the scene, conducted a welfare and safety check of the driver and contacted another worker to collect the vehicle and drive back to main operations in Perth. Both vehicles have then travelled back to Perth approximately 4 hours after incident, with the initial driver travelling as passenger. Driver has not received any injuries, however vehicle bonnet has been scratched and the left wing mirror cover has been sheared off.

A formal ICAM investigation has now commenced. Once completed, the lessons learnt will be communicated/shared through a final Grey Banner alert as soon as practicable.
