

2.11 Compliance

2.11.1 General

Traffic controllers need to ensure that they comply with the guidelines provided in this Guide. Enforcement actions or penalties relating to traffic controllers are the responsibility of each jurisdiction.

2.11.2 Compliance

Non-compliance may include:

- deviation from the clothing standard
- performing traffic control duties while not being the holder of a current traffic controller accreditation
- failing to comply with fitness for work requirements or drug and alcohol restrictions
- for an employer of a traffic controller failing to ensure that the traffic controller complies with the conditions of their accreditation.

2.11.3 Amending, suspending and cancelling an accreditation

The following are grounds for amending, suspending or cancelling a traffic controller's accreditation:

- if the traffic controller commits an offence of a serious nature where public safety has been endangered, or is likely to be endangered, or it is in the public interest
- if the traffic controller breaches their statutory conditions of accreditation
- if an accreditation was issued based on a document or statement that is false and misleading
- if the traffic controller is convicted with an offence (refer to Section 2.3.6)
- repeated and verified non-conformances with the requirements of this Guide.
